BRISTOL COMMUNITY COLLEGE TO HOST FREE PROJECT MANAGEMENT CERTIFICATE PROGRAM INFORMATION SESSION ON WEDNESDAY, APRIL 25

Bristol Community College's Project Management Certificate program will host an information session on Wednesday, April 25, 2018, from 6-8 p.m., in the Commonwealth College Center (G-Building) Atrium, on the BCC Fall River campus. At the information session, students can review the program outline, ask questions, and find out how to quickly get started in the program. Light refreshments will also be served. Register for the information session today by emailing projectmgtevent@bristolcc.edu. This event is FREE and open to the public.

Set yourself apart in the job market. Consider diving into this growing field with BCC's new Certificate in Project Management, designed to prepare students to manage and lead project teams. The program enables students to gain practical, analytical, and theoretical skills to constructively manage projects across multiple fields and industries.

Why is project management so important? As company executives and entrepreneurs deal with the daily responsibilities of managing the business, the importance of hiring dedicated project managers to oversee projects from conception to completion is becoming a fast-growing field. Effective project managers carry out projects on time, on budget, and with minimal disruption to the rest of the business.

Course topics in the program include seamlessly integrating resources across a company's departments; time management; utilizing communication, planning, and budgeting skills to bring projects to completion; identifying activities required at each phase of a project; and more. For more information, or to register for the information session, please contact Carol Martin by emailing carol.martin@bristolcc.edu or by calling 774.357.2408.
