

PARENTING ADVANCEMENT PATHWAYS Monthly Newsletter

◆ A Brief Intro:

Bristol's Parenting Advancement Pathways program supports student parents by providing case management, financial and career planning, and integrated academic support to help them balance education and parenting. Participants access on- and off-campus resources, including community mentoring, academic planning, assistance with SNAP/EBT, housing programs, utility aid, etc. The program prioritizes BIPOC, low-income, and single-parent students but is open to all enrolled parenting students through a simple application and brief intake process.

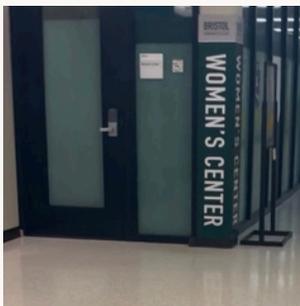

In this newsletter you will find:

Latest projects, community events, free resources, scholarship opportunities, and more. Keep Reading!

Our Network

EMPOWERING FAMILIES, ENRICHING LIVES, BUILDING STABILITY

The Parenting Advancement Program will work with the college's student centers and departments – such as the Women's Center, Multicultural Affairs, Disability Services, Admissions, Advising, Financial Aid, Career Services, and Student and Family Engagement, to customize services and resources to aid student success.

These efforts aim to address unique challenges faced by student-parents by providing academic support, career guidance, financial assistance, and family-friendly campus initiatives, all designed to empower them to balance their educational pursuits with parenting responsibilities effectively.
